In doing so we give no warranty nor makes any representation regarding the services to be supplied or the products purchased by you. Your booking will be subject to the terms and conditions applied by the provider of the service or products. If the travel services or products are not supplied in accordance with your booking your remedy lies with the third-party travel service provider.

5. Can prices change?

Every effort is made to ensure that the prices we quote to you are correct. However, we rely on information provided to us from the suppliers of the travel services and products. We will bring to your attention any change in price made prior to you completing your booking and paying the balance of the price. Some tour operators and travel service providers reserve the right to increase the price of your travel arrangements due to increases in airfares, hotel accommodation charges and currency fluctuations.

6. Tailored itinerary and advisory services

- Itineraries based on your requirements - When we provide customised travel advice and services, for example by planning your trip and providing a travel itinerary tailored to your individual needs based on information you supply we may charge a fee for service based on trip duration and requirements. Any itinerary prepared by us will be based on the information you provide via email or telephone discussions with us. The itinerary will include tailored activities/tours based on your individual requirements. Itineraries are prepared using information current at the time of research.
- Itineraries may change- A detailed itinerary may include recommendations and current pricing for flights, transfers, accommodation, restaurants, local travel and seasonal tours / activities etc. A list of the relevant website addresses will also be provided to assist you in the booking process. We will discuss with you at the time of developing your itinerary booking arrangements you prefer and likely prices and costs. However, AJM Global Journeys is unable to accept responsibility for any price changes made by the recommended service providers or changes due to currency fluctuations or for unforeseen circumstances that may impact, for example, delays in you making bookings, or changes to detailed travel directions, tour availability etc., changes to travel restrictions and warnings.
- Payment for planning services & itinerary - Unless we agree otherwise, payment for the preparation of a detailed itinerary must be made before the itinerary is released. We will not provide a refund for an itinerary that has been prepared on information supplied in the original request. However, we may make any reasonable changes to your itinerary at no cost providing the original destination remains the same. Should a new itinerary be required a further fee will be payable.
- Booking confirmation & payment - On receipt of the itinerary it is recommended that all flight/accommodation bookings be made as soon as possible to minimise the likelihood of price changes, hotel availability etc. AJM Global Journeys is unable to accept responsibility if recommended hotels are no longer available or local transport arrangements have changed.

- Package deals and pricing - In some instances, your itinerary may include packages that are based on negotiated special rates with third-party travel providers. Under terms negotiated with those third-party providers we may be restricted from providing you with a full breakdown of those rates and costs.

7. How are changes managed?

- Changes by you - If you want to change any part of your booking, we will do all we can to help. However, each third-party travel provider operates in accordance with their own specific terms and conditions and is under no obligation to make any change. Travel providers may charge cancellation and amendment fees for cancelled bookings or requests to change bookings. Cancellation and amendment fees can be up to 100% of the cost of the booking, even if travel has not yet commenced. Additionally, where a travel provider has agreed to make a change which results in the re-issue of your travel documents or other administrative process by us we will charge an administration fee per booking as set out in paragraph 11 under the heading 'our fees explained'.
- Changes by the travel provider - Travel providers may update or change your schedule for travel. We will endeavour to provide you with details of the changes as we are made aware of them but have no direct obligation or responsibility to do so. It is your responsibility to check with the travel provider directly before the date of travel as to whether there are any changes to the schedule confirmed in your travel documents.
- Strict conditions for airfares - Many airfares are subject to strict conditions regarding changes, cancellations, and refunds. All airfares are subject to taxes and charges levied by both government and the airlines themselves. Global fuel costs are constantly increasing. Airlines pass on the increase in taxes and fuel surcharges without notice and whilst we will endeavour to advise you of these charges in advance that may not always prove possible. The airline on which you are booked may change its departure time. It is your responsibility to contact the airline to check there has been no change to the time of departure.

8. How are cancellations managed?

- Cancellation by you (change of mind) - If you want to cancel your booking you may incur a cancellation charge. The amount of this charge will vary depending on when the cancellation is made and the third-party travel supplier's own terms and conditions / policies on refunds and cancellations. If your booking includes multiple products issued by different travel providers, then more than one set of terms and conditions may apply, you will need to understand all the different conditions. Whether or not you are entitled to a refund or credit and the cancellation charges that may apply will depend on the reasons for your cancellation. In most cases, third-party travel provider's refund and cancellation policies will state that deposits and professional fees are non-refundable and in some cases cancellation charges imposed by the third-party travel provider can be up to 100% of the cost of the booking, even if travel has not yet commenced. If you are entitled to a refund, we will be unable to provide you with funds until they are received from the third-party travel provider. In addition, we may charge a fee for our reasonable costs of making the booking to start with and then cancelling it. Please see paragraph 11 under the heading 'our fees explained' our fees may be deducted from your refund amount.

- Cancellation or delays by the travel provider – if the travel provider cancels or delays your travel or experience then you may be entitled to a refund, credit or other compensation such as an alternative flight, meal vouchers, lay-over hotel accommodation in accordance with the policies and terms and conditions issued by the travel provider. We are not responsible for travel provider cancellations or delays; you will not be entitled to claim compensation from us on the grounds of the cancellation.
- You no longer wish to travel due to personal concerns about changes in travel advice, travel restrictions or other events? – If the travel provider has not cancelled the service or the product, this may be treated as a change of mind (see first bullet point above). Your entitlements will depend on the timing of your travel or other experience and the refund and cancellation policy of the relevant travel provider and its terms and conditions for travel.
- The events caused the travel provider to cancel your trip or experience? – if your travel or experience is cancelled by the travel provider you may be entitled to a refund, credit note or other compensation under the terms and conditions issued by the travel provider. We are not responsible for travel provider cancellations or delays; you will not be entitled to claim compensation from us on the grounds of the cancellation.

You may also have a statutory right to a remedy (including a refund and/or compensation) under the Australian Consumer Law or other legislation such as Australian Consumer Law and Fair Trading Act 2012 (Vic).

In Australia, the Australian Consumer Law contains consumer guarantees which provide consumers with a basic, guaranteed level of protection for goods and services that they acquire. Additionally, for international travel you may have rights under the Warsaw or Montreal Convention - For more information please see ACCC website or obtain independent legal advice.

The person making the booking is taken to have provided a copy of these terms and conditions to the other members of the group or the person that the booking is for.
- You should take out travel insurance – we recommend that you take out comprehensive travel insurance at the time of paying a deposit. Travel insurance is strongly recommended by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade for all overseas travel. The policy should provide cover for loss of deposit, cancellation and additional expenses, medical expenses and repatriation and loss or damage to baggage and valuables. You are responsible for making any special or increased insurance arrangements which you deem are necessary.
- Passport and Visas - It is your sole responsibility to ensure you have a valid passport at the time of travelling and that you hold all necessary visas and permits. All Australians must hold a valid passport for international travel. Some countries require you when entering to hold passport with at least six months validity. Australian permanent residents require a valid re-entry permit. Children are required to hold individual passports. When assisting with an international travel booking, we will assume that all travellers on the booking have a valid Australian passport. If this is not the case, you must let us know. It is important that you ensure that you have valid passports, visas and re-entry permits which meet the requirements of immigration and other government authorities. Passport and visa costs are not included in the cost of your holiday or experience unless otherwise stated. We can provide visa assistance to you if you require us to do so, when we assist with your visa, we will advise you of our separate fees for this service. Any fines, penalties, payments, or expenditures incurred because of such documents not meeting the requirements of those authorities will be your sole responsibility (except to the extent caused by fault on our part).
- Travel advice - We recommend that you contact the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade or visit their website at <http://www.smartraveller.gov.au> for general travel advice, as well as specific advice (including safety alert levels) relating to the destination you wish to visit. You can also register your travel plans with DFAT, so that you may be more easily contacted in an emergency.
- Health - You must ensure that you are aware of any health requirements and recommended precautions relevant to your travel and ensure that you carry all necessary vaccination documentation. In some cases, failure to present required vaccination documentation (e.g. proof of Yellow Fever vaccination) may deny you entry into a country. If you have special health needs (for example, require wheelchair assistance, ASD needs) you must ensure you provide us with all relevant information we need for your booking and travel. There is no guarantee that your requests will be fully accommodated. We recommend that you consult with your local doctor, travel medical service or specialist vaccination clinic before commencing your travel. General health advice for the destination you wish to visit is also available from DFAT (see <http://www.smartraveller.gov.au>).

- Review and safekeeping of travel documents – You should review your travel documents such as airline tickets, hotel vouchers, tour vouchers or any other document used to confirm an arrangement with a service provider. An incorrect name on a booking may result in an inability to use that booking and the booking being cancelled. Please review your travel documentation carefully and advise us immediately of any errors in names, dates or timings. Travel documents may be subject to certain conditions and/or restrictions including (without limitation) being non-refundable, non-date-changeable and subject to cancellation and/or amendment fees. Travel documents cannot be transferred to another person to use. All airline tickets must be issued in the name of the passport/photo identity holder. As a safeguard it is also advisable to keep all your boarding passes so that you can verify this against your Points Summary after travel has been completed. Frequent Flyer points are not always available on special fares with some airlines.
- Unused vouchers - No refunds will be given on unused vouchers for accommodation, meals, car rental, ski hire, lessons, transfers and ski passes. Some apartments are not cleaned daily and final cleaning charges may apply. In some apartments/condominiums a deposit may be payable in local currency to the keyholder on arrival. This amount will be refunded, less extra charges as indicated. This deposit may be in the form of cash or credit as dictated by the accommodation and the release of these funds may take 6-8 weeks. Additional charges for linen, power or heating maybe payable in some apartment/ condominiums. Laundry, telephone calls, food not included on regular menus, ski or equipment hire, lift passes (unless stated), and any other item of a personal nature are not included.

It is both fair and reasonable that we are paid for the work we undertake to assist you.
